Discuss these items below. Make sure you think of reasons why your ideas are reasonable. There are dozens of possibilities so don't think in terms of a "right" answer.

1. What might be some physical (road/car) reasons for having a speed limit?

2. What might be some physiological or psychological (people-related) reasons for a speed limit?

3. Why would a city set or change the speed limit on a particular road?

Now of all of these reasons for a speed limit, your group should decide on the three most important factors explain why these are the most important.
